

I am opposed to this proposed rulemaking. It is more likely to cause more problems than the author is attempting to solve. It would also present an addition to regulatory paperwork and complexity for the simple sales of equipment that places an undue burden upon the seller.